What's it like to live in a dorm?

YOUR DORM ROOM IS YOUR HOME. You and your roommate have your own keys to your very own room. It's OK to decorate the walls with flags, posters and pictures. And you can bring, play and share your own tunes. Make popcorn in the dorm kitchen for watching movies in the dorm lounge. Quiet hours let you catch up on your sleep and your assignments.

A WHITE FLAG ON A DOOR MEANS
DO NOT DISTURB.

BRIGHT, BUSY GIRLS NEED LOTS OF REST, SO WEDNESDAYS ARE FOR SLEEPING IN. THE DAY BEGINS AN HOUR LATE—EXCEPT FOR ONCE A MONTH WHEN YOU GET TWO EXTRA HOURS OF SLEEP.

Each dorm has its own kitchen. And the girls give it a workout. Popcorn and sandwiches are good, but slice-and-bake cookies are the favorite.

DORM LIFE ISN'T A SLUMBER PARTY—it's a real-life classroom. Girls learn how to live with other girls, confront difficulties, solve problems and respect each other's feelings, taste

LEARNING COMES FROM and space. Resident dorm parents supervise the girls LATITUDE WITH LIMITS. and invite them into their apartments for movies, crafts, cookie baking and conversation. There are curfews and quiet hours for sleep and study. Weekly meetings about life skills and issues. And neatness matters. Rooms are inspected regularly.
